Decoration Day Exercises

A committee meeting was called in the Red Men's hall, Tuesday May 23rd, and arrangements for services etc. were made as follows:

On music: Mrs. Thos. A. Willson, Mrs. Wm. G. Thomas, and Mrs. J. E. Worden; On services, Rev. J. S. Clark, Rev. H. P. Corser and Adj. Robert Smith; On programme, Wm. G. Thomas, Chas. A. Emery and M. F. Inman; On transportation, J. F. Collins, K. J. Johansen, Fred Wigg, Wm. H. Lewis, Louis Schott, Chas. A. Harris, L. P. Dawes, Rickard Hofstad and C. M. Coulter:

The matter of placing small flags on the graves of the soldiers was placed in the hands of Edward Ludecke, and was made a committee of one to look after and mark the graves.

In the matter of collecting flowers and ferns for decorating graves and distribution on the water by the children in honor of the soldiers and sailors who were drowned or lost at sea, the committee decided that these offerings should be delivered at the Red Men's hall, the date of such delivery to be given out later on. A programme will very likely be printed and distributed by the programme committee giving in detail all that is planned for the exercises of the day.

COMMITTEE OF GENERAL ARRANGEMENTS

Vaccination Order Is Modified

Cabin passengers en-route to Alaskan points are now exempt from vaccination upon signing an affidavit of non-exposure.

After June 5th this restriction will also be removed.

Alaska Tour

Three musicians will take a tour of Alaska port as far as Dawson in the early summer. They expect to stop in all ports and give entertainments to defray the expenses of the trip. F. M. C. Keller of Portland, is at the head of the party.

Shakes Mystery Cleared

Moses Shakes Drowned in Stikine

Last Monday morning Donald Austin and wife and Ellen Jackson were brought up in Commissioners Court for a hearing on a charge of manslaughter, and all of the defendants told what is generally believed to be the true story of the drowning of Moses Shakes in the Stikine river on the 12th inst.

The story corresponds with the facts given by the party of hunters and is as follows:

After selling the logs which had been cut during the winter the party decided to take a pleasure trip to the Stikine in Moses' gas-boat Yankee. On the afternoon of the 12th the party left Wrangell with Ellen Jackson on board who was going up river to see her little girl. Moses objected to Ellen Jackson going on the trip but was somewhat quieted on learning that she was only a passenger. Although they knew it was dangerous to drink on a trip like one up the Stikine the whole party proceeded to get very much intoxicated and Moses' dislike of Ellen Jackson broke out again and he proceeded to make it very disagreeable for her and promptly got a slap. Donald succeeded in quieting Moses forcibly but Moses got his nose bumped in the difficulty which accounts for the blood on the boat. Donald tried to run the boat up the creek but grounded on a bar. When he tried to back off, Moses got up from the bed, where he had been put after his difficulty with Austin, and pulled the ignition wires from the engine and smeared grease on the spark coil. Austin was then obliged to anchor the boat in the current, after which he started ashore with his wife and girl in a small boat.

They were just pushing off when Moses jumped into the small boat upsetting them into the river. Austin succeeded in getting his wife and little girl to cling to the keel of the overturned boat and they then called for Ellen Jackson to come to their aid in the other small boat, which she did, but Shakes was not seen again.

After searching for Shakes the party went up the creek to Andrew Kluquetz's cabin.

They were sobered by their wetting and became frightened by the loss of Shakes, and Ellen Jackson made them promise to tell the story that they first told when they came to Wrangell and were tried for larceny. When the party of hunters came to the cabin Ellen made Austin and his wife get in bed and cover themselves up so their wet clothes would not be noticed.

It was their fear of being punished for the liquor law infringement that made them withhold the true story and it is doubtful if the true account would have ever been made public if they had not been tried on a charge of manslaughter. Donald Austin and wife will be the principal witness in a suit against Ellen Jackson charged with giving liquor to Indians. Ellen Jackson will be held in custody if the required bail is not furnished.

A. B.s To Build At St. Michael

The St. Michael Camp of the Arctic Brotherhood has now a fund of $5,000 which is intended for the purpose of erecting a building on the Island should the authority of the government be obtained. This authority is being sought eagerly now, according to Richard A. Wood, Arctic Chief of the Camp, who states in a letter to Grand Arctic Recorder J. M. Keller that a very handsome structure will be raised should they succeed in receiving the permit.—Skagway Alaskan.

Dance and Basket Social

The Committee appointed to further the building of a walk to the cemetery announce for next Saturday evening at the Red Mens' Hall a dance and basket social, the proceeds to go toward the funds for building the sidewalk.

Dancing will be the order until eleven o'clock when the baskets will be sold. Coffee will be served up stairs. Popular music furnished. A general good time guaranteed.

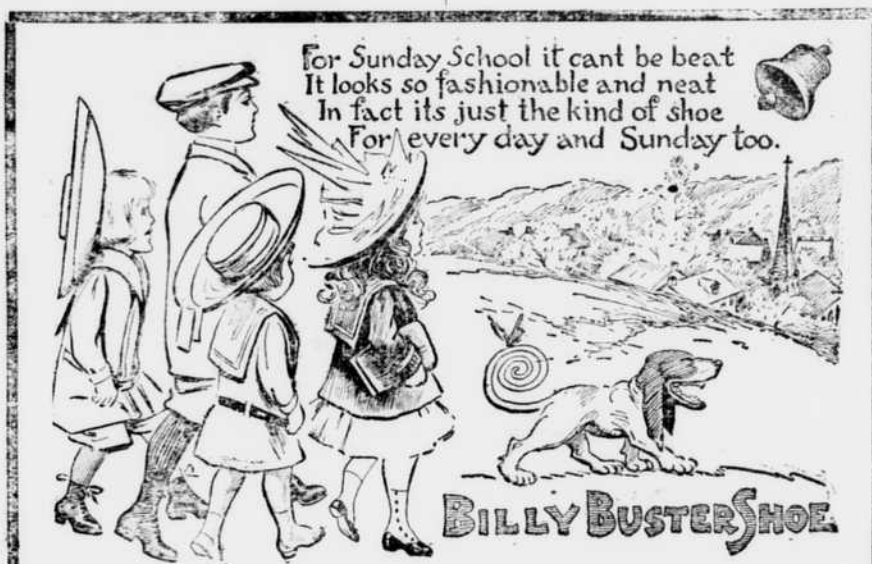

Memorial Day Service

Services appropriate to the Sunday before Memorial day will be held at St. Philips church Sunday evening May 28.

The theme of the address will be "It is for us to consecrate".

Veterans and sons of veterans are especially invited to assist in the service by their presence.

Let us all endeavor to make this service a most effective service of patriotism.

For Sunday School it can't be beat
It looks so fashionable and neat
In fact it's just the kind of shoe
For every day and Sunday too.

News of the North

Good dogs must be scarce in the Iditarod as six brought the high price of $3,500 recently.

It is reported that there is enough quick silver in the Kuskokwin country to supply the world.

There is a $52,000,000 trade between Alaska and the United States annually. This amount is something like $1,200 per capita.

The improvements at the Yes Bay Cannery has raised it out of the 40,000 class into a 60,000 capacity cannery.

Gorman and company are building a 75,000-case, modern two line cannery at Kasaan bay. This will be one of the big industries of the Ketchikan district.

The Ministers of Juneau and Douglas have formed a union and a meeting will be held next month.

Sale Confirmed

The sale of the local meat market that was reported last week has been confirmed and transfer of title made.

Mr. McTague, the new owner has had three years experience in the Market at Ketchikan and several years with the Carstein people.

C. M. Coulter, the former proprietor, wishes to thank the people of Wrangell for their patronage in the past and requests the same support for his successor.

Trap Snaps

Of the 1450 bear pelts shipped from Alaska in 1910, 1336 were black, 33 brown and 6 grizzlies. These figures take no account of those taken out in the personal effects of passengers.

2,002 beaver pelts were shipped in 1910.

14,384 fur seal skins were shipped last year. The official count credits Wrangell island with thirteen.

The numbers of marten, mink and muskrat skins shipped were, 4,319, 76,369 and 69,245.

The total value of all furs amounted to $917,625.

A Record Pack

The Shakan Salmon Co., of Shakan, is preparing to pack seventy thousand case of salmon this season. They are putting in new machinery and are working both a day and night crew.

Pleasing Entertainment

The people of Wrangell were treated to a pleasant evening entertainment at the Presbyterian Church last Thursday evening.

The program consisted of vocal selections, readings and stereoptican views.

All of the selections were pleasing and received encores which were responded to.

The views of the Stikine, River country, which were taken by Mr. Cheney, were both beautiful and instructive.

Oil Operators Rushing Work

Katalla, April 25.—In a remarkable short space of time the first steel oil tank was completed yesterday, ready to hold 5,000 barrels of Katalla oil. Steel for the three oil tanks that are in process of erection for the Amalgamated Development company arrived here April 1 and was unloaded next day. Accompanying the shipment was a score of men, while a force of fifteen others had been at work a month or more preparing the foundations for the three tanks, which will have a combined capacity of 37,000 barrels.

The first tank to be completed and connected with the pipe line from the wells stands at Hay point which juts from the mainland between Katalla bay and Controller bay, in the direction of Kanak island.

The next tank to be erected will be on Kanak island and it will be the largest of the three, having a capacity of 30,000 barrels. The foundation is being cleared for this tank, and work is to begin erecting the steel framework immediately.

The pipe line connecting the wells with the tanks is in position, ready to be joined to the completed reservoirs. The last tank to be erected will be one of 2,000 barrels at the wells.

The Northland sailed the 23rd and will call at Ketchikan, Wrangell, Petersburg, Sitka and Prince of Wales Island ports.

Trout fishing did you say? You will catch plenty if you buy your gear from Patenaude. Everything you need to catch 'em with.

Mrs. Oscar Anderson is stopping at L. C. Patenaude's waiting the next trip of the river boat, Telegraph, which will take her to Dease Lake where she will join her husband.

Troubled with dandruff? It may be light and fluffy and not appear dangerous at the present time but if neglected it will become matted—that will mean loss of hair. Nyal's Hirsutone will prevent it.

W. Marchant, Canadian Custom Officer, arrived in Wrangell on the State Tuesday, on his way to the boundary. Mr. Marchant will take the place of Mr. Busbee who has been transferred.

Dr. S. Hall Young of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, passed through on the State Tuesday. Dr. Young is the missionary who established the Presbyterian church at this place and is on his way to the Iditarods to establish a mission in that country.

You know that dandruff means baldness—it keeps collecting, forms layers and robs the hair of nutrition. The first application of Nyal's Hirsutone will loosen up the dandruff and supply nourishment.

STORAGE BATTERIES, guaranteed not to sulphate. Cheaper than dry cells. Come in and see us about 'em. Wrangell Light and Power Company, at Power House.
